TIP OF THE MONTH

THE SWEET SPOT FOR SOCIALIZATION

Socializing your dog in a daycare environment offers key benefits, such as improved social skills and reduced fear or aggression. By interacting with other dogs and people, dogs learn proper behavior and boundaries, which can help prevent behavioral issues at home. Daycare also provides mental and physical stimulation, reducing anxiety and excess energy. Overall, it boosts your dog's confidence and adaptability, leading to healthier relationships with both animals and humans. The sweet spot to see tangible results in your dog's socialization journey is at least three days of daycare per week. This consistent routine provides your dog with a structure that allows them to reach their full potential!
